Get rid of your ANTS and your CAN'Ts to think like a giraffe

After you read this, email me, "I am thinking like a giraffe", ready to work from the heart, stretch , and look up in 2010 to win!

2010 is the year to be "heart to work" instead of just being "hard at work. Whatever your goals are for this year, whether they are for a fresh beginning, or a renewed commencement to commit to better health, personal growth, a more successful business life, or spending more time with loved ones, I congratulate you on setting them. As I describe fully in one of my books, Highway of Success: Proceed with Passion, you can only arrive at your destination if you already know where you are headed. In order to see that we

Stomp Out The ANTS

Are you ready to stomp out the ANTS (automatic negative thoughts) and CAN'TS (certainly am not trying) in your business?

I am on a mission to help that happen. We have a fun new seminar planned to help everyone win in 2010. We are looking for some different areas to launch this new fun way to learn how positive thoughts and feelings can be everyone's key to success. Do you have a team of 25 or more? Please email us or call us at 702-673-0361 and let us know what city you are in. Instead of the Ants Go Marching in, in 2010, we are going to be sure that YOU are ready to begin and win in 2010. Did you know that the giraffe is the animal with the largest heart in the animal kingdom? That is why he is our logo. Join us at our new achieve our goals, we each need to make certain decisions about what we do each day. That is the only way to insure that what we want to have happen actually does happen. Without making the correct decisions, we end up with wishes and hopes rather than tangible and worthwhile results. It is wonderful to dream and fantasize, but without working with heart to achieve our desires, we will most likely end 2010 where we started out rather than where we wanted to arrive.

Sharing Success with Heart

1. You are heart at work, and no longer hard at work, when you stop being afraid to share because you fear that someone might say no.
2. You are heart at work, and no longer hard at work, when you share in less than 30 seconds. Remember sharing is about offering, not about convincing.
3. You are heart at work, and no longer hard at work, when you realize how blessed and fortunate you are to be involved in a business that works right alongside your family and other activities. With that understanding, how can you not share it with everyone?
4. You are heart at work, and no longer hard at work, when you focus on helping people feel valued whether they are interested or not in what you are sharing.

Are you ready to build your business with heart? I believe that you are. If so, make the decision to share with 5 people a day in 30 seconds or less. That will take only 2 1/2 minutes of your day. You can do it when you decide that you have to. Watch what happens to your business when you share with heart.

seminar. Come have fun and learn to always look up. It is time to stretch and grow.

An ANT To Conquer

"Dear Ilene"

Sometimes it's so hard for me to work on my business! I can think of a dozen other things that I would rather be doing- and I often find myself doing those other things when I know I should be building my business! What can I do?

Very Distracted

Dear Very Distracted,
We are all so fortunate to have our own business. You have to remember that having your own business is not permission to allow yourself off the hook from doing things that are necessary or uncomfortable, but instead it really means you need to feel responsible. Being your own boss would do--have expectations of success. A boss would never accept your answer, "I decided to mop the kitchen instead," or, "I decided to play bridge," if he or she asked for a report that was due.

Remember, having a home-based business gives you the flexibility to decide when to work, not if to work.
