

Working From The Heart 12/21/09

In This Issue: click below

Dear Consultants And Leaders Shopping Spree
This Could Lead To Your Shining Moment In Your Business For 2010
Anything's Possible Seminar Schedule

Dear Consultants And Leaders

"We must always change, renew, rejuvenate ourselves; otherwise we harden." –

Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

As we approach the end of the calendar year, I have the great pleasure of imagining each and every one of you commencing to commit to an even higher level of success in 2010 than the one that you achieved in 2000. During this busy holiday season, be sure to take some time out from all the hustle and bustle and allow yourself to look back with well-earned pride on the journey you have traveled this year. Savor your accomplishments. Glory in your achievements.

At the same time, I encourage you to propel your thoughts into the New Year. Get a head start on the next leg of your journey by mentally preparing yourself to reach whatever milestones you intend to pass on your own personal Highway of Success. Why wait until January 1 to unfold your road map and chart your course? Procrastination will cost you precious time. You will miss your chance to pull out into traffic at the

This Could Lead To Your Shining Moment In Your Business For 2010

Bob and I attended a show last night. When I heard this song performed, I could feel the passion. It is a powerful song for all of us. This is the kind of song that you can't get out of your head. I encourage you to play it a couple times and think about the message. Make this moment and every moment count.

Imagine that you are at your company's convention and they are introducing you as a top consultant, the top consultant. It all happened because you are the best professional sharer your company has ever seen. This is the moment....to decide that you have a wonderful gift to offer. Enjoy the song! Please email me after you have listened to it and let me know what your goals are for 2010. Pass this to everyone you know who is ready to choose success 2010.

LISTEN

Share This Newsletter

Anything's Possible Seminar Schedule

$15.00 and two hours—will help you to have the best start to your new year ever!

Can you fit in one more evening for a training seminar to show you how you can work your business right alongside your family and other activities? I know you are thinking, "Ilene, how can I fit another thing into my busy hectic life?" That is why I would like to meet with you. Many consultants and directors have said this seminar has been just what their consultants needed. Can you join me? I am hoping so!

I would like to invite you to attend one of my seminars in 2010. I am on a mission to help you have your best year ever. The seminar will help in in your earliest possible moment and get ahead of the crowd.

I am confident that during this season of good cheer you can, and will, continue to build a successful business right alongside the many other activities you enjoy with your family and friends. If you begin to feel overwhelmed by the hectic pace of the holiday season, just remember that the only things that any of us can ever totally control are our own thoughts. I know from personal experience how exhilarating and exhausting this time of year can be. I also know from personal experience that remaining positive and keeping an optimistic outlook is the best antidote to allowing stress and negative thoughts get the upper hand.

I look forward to accompanying you on your journey as you continue to travel the Highway of Success.

The $12.00 price adjustments will be made when your order is processed by us.

business and life

. We are about to start a new year and I know I can help you make it a better one.

Below are some topics I will be covering to help you do that.

Learn how to do the following alongside your family and activities-

- * Increase your confidence so that you do not hesitate sharing with anyone, anywhere
- * Effectively communicate with people about all of your business opportunities, so you are getting concrete results.
- * Paint a picture about your company, its products and opportunities so that people can see themselves in that picture.
- * Get over any hesitation about picking up the phone and contacting new leads
- * Ilene will teach specific language for cold calls as well as customer service calls.
- * Coach and form a partnership with your hostess
- * Develop a system of following up with your leads
- * Work your business alongside family or any other activity on a daily basis
- * Prevent letting fear overcome any goals you have, taking the words, "I Can't" out of your vocabulary.

Special: Purchase your tickets by December 28th and get your tickets for only $15.00 After the 28th tickets will be $25.00.

After attending this seminar you will be so excited about your business that you will want to share that excitement with everyone you see. You will have concrete language and business building tips that will allow you to reach the same level of success Ilene did with her business (650 personal recruits, selling hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of merchandise). This seminar will inspire you to reach within and become the successful person you want to be.

Anything's Possible Seminar Locations
7:00pm-9:00pm

January 2

Private Event
Boca Raton, FL

January 12

Oklahoma City, OK (Click here for information)

January 14

Tulsa, OK (Click here for information)

January 15

Private Event
Tulsa, OK

January 16

Private Event
Cleveland, OH

January 20

Seattle, WA (Click here for information)

January 21

Portland, OR (Click here for information)

February 2

Phoenix,AZ

February 4

Tucson, AZ

Share This Newsletter